

Internet Safety

The following have been reported
By young people of your age.

I met Sam in an internet chatroom.
We have been in contact for a few weeks.
He wants to meet.

What do you think?

- Meet up, you get on well
- I would take my friend with me to the meeting
- Don't meet up, but there is no harm in chatting
- Tell your parent where and when you meet and take them with you

Gwyn has asked for my phone number and e.mail address.

We have been in contact for a few weeks.
We get on really well we are Man U fans.

What should I do?

- This is a good idea
- Continue to chat but do not give him personal details
- Stop chatting immediately
- Continue to chat and discuss with a trusted adult

Jack sent me a photo of him playing rugby
He wants a photo of me.

What should I do?

- This is a good idea
- Don't send a photo, tell an adult
- Don't send but carry on chatting

Sarah has asked for my home address.
We have been friends on the internet for months.
She wants to visit my home.

What should I do?

- This is a good idea
- Continue to chat but do not give your personal details
- Stop chatting immediately

Because I refused to meet with Gary my chatroom “friend”.
Now he is threatening to write nasty things about me.

What should I do?

- Don't tell anyone else
- Save the message and report it
- Agree to meet, to stop him carrying out his threat
- Talk to a trusted adult

For the past month some people on my MSN contact list are always writing nasty and horrible things about me.

What should I do?

Imran age 12

- Keep it to yourself, ignore them
- Save the messages and report them
- Stop chatting immediately
- Talk to a trusted adult
