

5. a. Best Mates

Jamie always hangs around with his mates. There is not much to do where they live so his friends are really important to him. The last few weeks they have been spending a lot of time in the children's park and near the shop. Jamie always joins in when the boys shout at the people coming out of the shop. It is a laugh to see what the people do. Some of them look scared, some shout back and others just run away. It's just a game - isn't it?

1. What kind of anti-social behaviour have you read about in this story?
2. What are the boys doing in the photograph?
3. Do you think it is 'just a game'?
4. What could be the consequences of this type of anti - social behaviour?
5. What advice would you give to the boys in the photograph?
