

Scenario 1

Paul was doing his homework by using the Internet for his research when an instant message popped up from his school friend Callum. It said, 'Check out these hot pictures of Millie'. Millie is a girl in Year 9 from his school. Attached to the message was a file labelled 'hot girl'.

1. What do we call this kind of photographic communication?
2. Has Callum done anything wrong? If yes, what?
3. If Paul opens the file will he be doing anything wrong? If yes, what?
4. What advice would you offer Paul?
